

For the Class of '69 —

It Was

A Year

For Change

1967—their first year in high school. And it was, basically, a year of adjustment. Some of the adjustments were relatively easy to make, such as the absence of stairs to negotiate. But there were many others that presented more of a problem. The most difficult of the adjustments they had to make was to the rapid pace of high school life. Besides their busy daily schedule of classes which was, in itself, demanding, there were many extracurricular activities in which to participate. There was also a regular schedule of inter-scholastic athletic contests to attend. All of these things combined to make the Sophomore year one of confusion and maturing.

However, the Sophomores have adapted quite well. Despite their early showings at pep fests, they have recovered and have become active contributors to our school spirit. Sophomores have attended games in large numbers and displayed a good deal of enthusiasm. They have also become a useful part of many school organizations.

For this the senior Class congratulates them and hopes that they maintain this willingness to take an active role in school life during the next two years when their responsibilities will be greater and W.H.S. will be relying on them.
